

RTW Investments is seeking interns interested in joining our research team this summer in New York City.

The ideal candidate is either an early-career industry-experienced scientist (1-3 years), or an MD, MBA, PhD/post-doctoral candidate from a top-tier university nearing degree completion. All applicants MUST have a degree or background in biological sciences.

The program is designed to expose interns to emerging themes in biotechnology, policy, and innovation, and will be divided into modules focused on the drug industry, disease biology, and equity research.

The internship is expected to start in mid-June and will last approximately 2 months. This is a full-time and paid internship.

Please include the following documents in PDF format to apply:

- 1) Cover letter highlighting your academic interests and describing a recent innovation in healthcare or biotechnology you find interesting
- 2) Resume

RTW is an investment firm focused on new and emerging biotechnologies. Investments are made anywhere in a company's life cycle, from pre-clinical to commercial stages. RTW invests globally and across the capital structure to include both public and private companies.
